

Is the creation of a community immediate?

The creation of a community is not immediate.

In order to preserve the quality of the contents and communities proposed, your request for creation must be examined by a member of our team before being accepted.

This operation can take between 1 and 3 working days.